

Professional and Support Services

In carrying out its policy objectives and day-to-day operations, the HKMA is supported by a range of administrative, technological and professional services. In 2000, a number of these services were brought together with the formation of a new Corporate Services Department.

A crested or red-whiskered bulbul gathers fruits in the woodlands around Mai Po. This agile, lively and sometimes noisy bird is seen all over Hong Kong, searching for insects, fruits and buds, usually working in small groups.