

Bank of China (Hong Kong) Limited

Extensive branch network to serve financial needs of SMEs

Bank of China (Hong Kong) has extended its services in 2016 to provide business banking services across its branch network of around 200 branches, and together with the launch of expeditious account opening services[^] and privileges, to fulfil the social responsibilities in supporting small and medium-sized enterprises.

The bank will also enhance the support to the account opening services for overseas companies, such as setting up a designated hotline, to promote the image of Hong Kong as a welcoming city for overseas enterprises and to support the overall development of the economy.

To learn more about local and overseas SMEs account opening services, please visit (www.bochk.com/se) > Account Opening Request.

24 March 2017

Note: The above content is provided by the respective bank. Please contact the bank directly if needed.

[^]Opening a business account for sole proprietorship, partnership, and single-layer limited companies with share capital that are registered in Hong Kong can be completed in 5 working days counting from making an appointment, submission of the required documents and company search fees.